matteo as a character makes me feel absolutely batshit..... they really took isak and made it very depressed and a drug addict and less normie and quite shy and strange and ripped off a new heart..... also the sense of dress made him even gayer in some way like..... isak wore skinny jeans and graphic and windbreaker T-shirts. Meanwhile matteo was like these pants are 3 sizes too big and my belt is useless I will also pair it with a GIANT SCHLUBBY JACKET and it was a whole new level..... simply absolutely janky and perfect. About to go crazy Matteo Appreciation Week: Matteo Appreciation Week favorite costumes -> Grandpa Sweater s3 rewatch + random matteo gifs [19/?] Matteo week of appreciation: Chill type, Double Jonas, feingelist, is him in our class, cute, brother, good kisser Matteo-Isak+Even Matteo Appreciation Week: Day 2 Matteo and Hanna <:3333 I have seen all the remakes of the Isak seasons and not necessarily more, so this is based solely on them I'm pretty sure Druck and Skam Spain resonating so well with me has a lot to do with how much they both mixed it up and played with the source material. Not only in terms of Druck having a trans guy and SkamEs having girls, but they tried to pay tribute to the spirit of the original instead of just redoing the scene for the scene. I love the way Matteo was given many of Even's lines. I've heard people say that by making David trans, Druck somehow 'doesn't care about mental illness'. Seriously? I mean, all the Isaks are pretty depressed, but Matteo? Jesus. I feel like it's all there, it's subtle. Maybe I'm reading between the lines, but Matteo literally doesn't fully open his eyes except when he's near David. He doesn't feel anything except when he's around David. David is a completely different character to Even. It's so isolated by comparison; it's just him and his sister, no friends, no girlfriend, kind on the surface, but just a horror ball underneath. Even's dominance doesn't suit Matteo or David, and sharing his lines and actions between them made a very different dynamic. Similarly, Skam Spain could have taken the story of boys and 'female' characters in it, as it appears to be a popular and lazy writing tactic in television and film in recent years. But no, they made it a very feminine story. Society treats strange women very differently from men and they took that into account. And unlike other Isaks, Cris doesn't question his sexuality until after he meets Joana. Joana awakens these feelings in Cris, she not only confirms them. As for her handling of MI, I think making Joana instead of bipolar was a brilliant decision. Once again, it greatly changed its character arc and relationship. It is hot and cold; Joana's hotter and hotter. It's completely all over the store and its outbursts of anger are so different from the general Even archetype. She encounters as painfully real, as much as the woman and as BPD. Honestly, the closer a remake of the original is, the less I like it. They seem to want to upload the drama instead of giving the characters their own stories, and simply ... feels like a bad fanfiction. (And let's not talk about Italy apparently without knowing the difference between bipolar disorder and personality-limiting disorder well.) Bonus: having a good Jonas and a good Eskild are essential and both Druck and SkamEs have that right part, even when they combined the two. Bonus Bonus: My phone's keyboard automatically switched to Norwegian for this stripper. Well, then. na-klar:Kiki: How's Nora? Zoe: Well, why? Kiki: Zoe... Zoe: What? Why don't you ever ask me how I am? Kiki: How are you, Zoe? Zoe: GoodKiki: Really? Zoe: No! Kiki: Finally? It's all right? Zoe: No, for her mother. I remember there was a mega link, but I just looked for it and I couldn't find it anywhere. If you're looking for somewhere else to do you find it's a great place to stay? Anonymous asked: Hii! Are you going to post the clips with submarines here or are you posting only the transcript and need a vip to see the actual clips in yt? Hey, I don't think I'm going to translate or transcribe the clips. I'm running this blog alone and translating the clips would become too much work for me, sorry :(neinaviglio asked: hey, thanks for the translations!! I have a question: do you know where we can see druck not so legally bc is geoblocked in my country ... and preferably with subtitles ? Is there a blog that publishes the clips? Hii, I think @drucktranslations will translate and post the clips/episodes on your blog! September 20 Post Nora on InstagramGirl in blue. September 20 Post Zoe's Post on InstagramThe best [people]!!!
